Wowen of the Washington Lobby. The following is from The New Orleans Times, It is from the pen of Colonel Roberts, and is historical :

The queen of the lobby was generally of two types. The first was a superb specimen of beauty, the latter of brains. (Strangely enough these women always hunt in couples.) The beauty of the lobby was but rarely seen. She lived quietly, but in perfect taste, at the very best hotel. She was either a bright blonde, with abundance of tawny hair, lithe in form and shapely of limb, with the clearest and most periect complexion, or else of that soft, smoothskinned type which belongs to the semi tropi-"al woman, of strong, jet black hair, and complex. Teamy softness, and eyes jet black with a cond at others the softest hazel sometimes, and and indolers in their brown. Eyes la. Tensed them, and then luster until something rensed them, and then they gleamed like those o. but I should One might look and admire, brace of India's fierce tiger, rather than in the willowy arms of one of these beauties. These magnificent women were very exclusive. They were much more difficult of access than many haughty society dames. They had but lew acquaintances who were allowed to call, and they were not immoral. I have known all who were of note in my time, and I dare ayouch without fear of contradiction from any who can speak knowingly, that while they had their weakness, they were not in the direction of the violation of the seventh commandment.

prefer to take my chances of safety in the em-

Yet it happens to most of the class I have named to figure at some time in their history in some sad or, mayhap, sinful story. I well recollect how that queenly beauty who made a cool $100,000 in the great Pacific Mail fascinated a kindly old man wno then held the second position in the nation. Finally he made a formal offer of his heart, hand and honor. The woman was touched—perhaps for the first time since she had been a woman. There came to her a touch of that feeling which at one time in their lives makes all women akin. The hard, and eyes that had often shone with excitement. softe, red for once and were wet with tender tears. 'd only do you harm," she said; "many men have triked to me as you have done, but somehow you it such me more than all the others. I cannot ma. ry you, although there is no stain or dishonor on . ny soul. It would be unwise for you. Now, go. furning of the braid.

His friends say he had so. But I wonder how many wom. the nation be peet of being the second lady of the horse fore them would have answered wit. I the honesty and candor of the lobby queen! And when the Vice President of the Toited States lay in state in the Capitol, it is related that early in the morning, before he was taken away, while the watchers were sleep y and tired with their vigil, a woman closely van'ed, but of wondrous grace of step, and tall and stately in figure, came into the room where the dead

She stood a second, seemingly irre: olute. Then she placed two white, ungloved hardson one of which there gleamed a ring, a c astly solitaire-on the dead man's face; then, stooping swiftly lower still, she lightly touched the cold, pallid brow with her lips.

Before the attendants could observe more than I have described, she disappeared with a noiseless, graceful step. While none saw her face, the lissom, undulating sway of the figure, so stately and tall and perfect, could not be mistaken. She stepped into a close carriage, which was just outside, and was rapidly carried

Well, it is a wicked world, and a heartless one, and there was that in the cold kiss, free from all passion, but full of pure womanly feeling, of which it is not worthy. And I think that in the : day of wrath it may fare better with her, because of that act, than with many who have lived and died in the odor of same tity. Among those who shall be first in the kingdom, there will be (clothed in the softest light of God's sweet charity) Magdalen, the A COLORED PREACHER LOOKING THINGS

IN THE FACE,-The Baton Rouge Sugar Planter says Rev. Luke Billups, a worthy colored man who has accumulated some property since the war, lately said: I see around me gentle men working in the field with the plow and hoe who were wealthy before the war. Among them I see my old master, Thomas W. Bird, earning his bread by the sweat of his brow. while new comers are making their living easily by staying in the shade, and that is something I do not understand. I have lived in this parish thirty-three years, and have always been well treated by every one residing here, and I shall give my influence to no man who is not identified with the parish.

CONSTIPATION.

TESTIMONY OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF GEORGIA.—I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for constipation of my bowels, caused by a temporary derangement of the liver, for the last three or four years, and always, when used according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think it is a good medicine for the derangement of the liver—at least such has been my personal experience in the use of it. my personal experience in the use of it.
